Mike:

As you know, the issues of capacity limitation and payment for net excess generation applicable to Rocky Mountain Power are being addressed in Docket 08-035-78: In the Matter of the Consideration of Changes to Rocky Mountain Power's Schedule No. 135 - Net Metering Service. Comments on these two issues are due on November 26, 2008, as indicated in the Commission's request for comments shown at the following link.

Regarding this docket at this point in time, e-mail comments are fine. These can be submitted to mlivingston@utah.gov. Please make sure you reference the docket number in your comments. You can always file your comments in a more official manner. Official comments filing requirements for adjudicative proceedings can be found at the following link:

The following is a link to a website in which comments have been filed recently so you get the flavor of how things are filed:

Hope this helps.

Carol,

I would like to comment on the avoided cost calculations by Rocky Mountain Power. What is the correct process.

Thanks
