Thanks for speaking with me this morning. Per our conversation, I am very disappointed with the recent decision to permit/require Questar Gas to begin significantly raising rates on NGV (natural gas for vehicles). Last year I decided to help with the environment and purchased a NGV vehicle at a substantially higher price than a normal (high polluting) vehicle. I was willing to pay a lot more on the assumption that Utah Government would continue its policy of promoting clean air. My opinion of the recent decision is shared by nearly everyone with whom I have spoken. Utah is known for having the "best run" government in the country for many obvious reasons including our being one of the only states to be run in "the black". We are also admired for our efforts to promote "green fuels". Please do not take steps backward by removing the incentives for drivers to purchase and operate NGV vehicles in Utah. Thanks for your time,
